About Group Life Conversion and Portability

You may be eligible to continue your life insurance coverage after you leave your job, if you are no longer eligible for coverage under your Group policy, or if your Group coverage is reduced.

Group Life Conversion means you convert your group insurance to an Individual life policy. You can keep the same level of coverage if your coverage amount has been reduced or terminated.

If you're eligible under the terms of your employer's group policy you may convert to a Sun Life Individual life policy without having to provide any additional medical information. You have 31 days (or any extended notice period¹) from the date your coverage terminated or was reduced to submit an application and first payment for individual coverage. Check your certificate for details.

Group Life Portability means you port your Group insurance to a Group term policy and keep the same level of coverage even after you've left your job.

Group Life Portability is available to you if your employer or plan administrator has a Sun Life Group Life policy with a portability benefit and you lose coverage due to termination of employment. If you're eligible under the terms of the group policy, you have the option to port to the Sun Life Portability policy. Some eligibility restrictions apply so please check your certificate for specifics. You have 31 days from the date your employment terminates to apply for Portability. For some policies this period may be longer. Check your certificate for details.

A list of what you need to send us is on the Conversion application cover page. This period may be longer in some policies, so be sure to check your certificate for details. Guide to your Life Conversion premium

Please visit www.sunlife.com/us for the application and follow these instructions. In the top right-hand corner of the web page, go to Quick Links> Find a form. Next, select the hyperlink “forms” under the heading, “Life insurance contract forms.” Select the “Search” tab and type in, “conversion.” At this point, you can choose the application for the state you live in.

The following tables display the Life Conversion annual rates (by thousand) by age. To calculate your premium, locate your age, or the age closest to yours, and find the corresponding rate.

Your actual cost will depend on your issue age. The issue age is the person’s age as of the birthday nearest the effective date of the individual policy. If your birthday is 6 months or more before the effective date, use your current age. If your next birthday is less than 6 months from the effective date, use the age you will be on that birthday.

Example for issue age:

For a person that is age 40 today with a policy effective date of January 1:

- If date of birth is June 1 or before, use the rate for age 40; or
- If date of birth is July 1 or after, use the rate for age 41.

If you cannot locate your age in the table, please contact our Customer Service Center at 800-247-6875.

Example to calculate your annual premium:

$$250,000$ (amount of coverage) divide by 1000 = 250 X 35.88 (rate) + $125 (annual fee) = $9,095 (annual premium)

- For semi-annual premium take above annual premium (from calculation) and multiply by 0.52
- For monthly premium take above annual premium and multiply by 0.09

Calculate your annual premium:

Include your own numbers into the calculation formula below and repeat for each dependent.

_____ (amount of coverage) divide by 1000 = _____ X _____ (rate) + $125 (annual fee) = _____ (annual premium)

- For semi-annual premium take above annual premium (from calculation) and multiply by 0.52
- For monthly premium take above annual premium and multiply by 0.09
